Cone Toastmasters Club To Receive Charter Mon.

The newly formed Cone Toastmasters Club will officially receive its charter Monday night, December 6 at 6:30 p.m. at the White Oak Y.M.C.A.

Clifton Beckwith of Raleigh, an outstanding toastmaster and executive vice president of the North Carolina State Employment Service, will be the principal speaker. John Griffith from the Downtown Toastmasters Club will present the charter and Robert Galloway, area governor, will install the new officers.

All Toastmasters' clubs in this region have been invited to attend including the Burlington Club, Downtown Club of Greensboro, Greensboro Toastmasters Club, and Greensboro Toastmistress Club.

The officers to be installed are president, Norman Pinkerton, vice president; Jim Ward, secretary; Fred Ziprik, treasurer; Walter Caviness; sgt-at-arms, Byron Calhoun; deputy governor, Merlin Beaver; and educational chairman, Wallace Brown.

Other members of the club are Howard Pickard, Joe Mitchell, Bernard Sizemore, Harold Carpenter, Howard Garner, Fay Gilbert, Kermit Henderson, James Jarrett, George Nance, Ernest Robertson, Arthur Rollins, John Schopp, Garland Seabolt, Wade Wylie, Herbert Hayes, Wayne Cates, and George Lilly.

The Toastmasters Club is the fastest growing organization in the United States today. The Cone Club is the 1667th Club to receive its official charter since Toastmasters International was started in 1930.

Tri-Hi-Y Club Plans Formal Dance

Ninth grade Girls Tri-Hi-Y Club met Monday night, November 29. Further plans for the club's Christmas formal dance were made with the learning of new dance steps taught by Miss Maxine Allen of the Cone Memorial YMCA staff. At the next meeting the girls plan to invite boys to the meeting in order to teach them the steps they have just learned.

The club members plan to invite approximately 120 to its seasonal dance. This will be held at White Oak YMCA on December 21.

Carol Campbell is a new member of the club, which now has 29 members in all.

Thanksgiving Service At St. Paul's Church

Annual Thanksgiving Service was held at St. Paul's Methodist Church this year on Wednesday evening, the eve of Thanksgiving. Special speaker was Dr. L. E. Otter, pastor of First Methodist Church, Watertown, N. Y.

Dr. and Mrs. Otter have just returned to New York after spending two weeks with Rev. and Mrs. Key, pastor of St. Paul's Church.

Drive twice as fast and you'll hit four times as hard. Speed is a deadly factor in auto collisions. Be smart...Slow Down and Live.

BABY CLINIC

White Oak—Proximity—Revolution

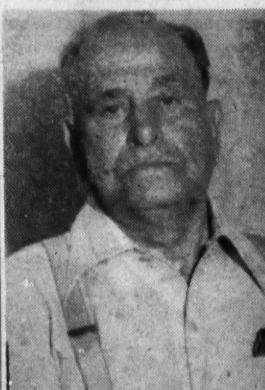

Children attending the Infant and Pre-School Clinic on Wednesday afternoon were Jimmie Anderson, Evelyn Marie Lewey, Linda Thompson, David Hoover and Gary Wayne Sells.

Three immunizations were given by R.N. Mrs. Juanita Johnson.

CONE MILLS CORPORATION
DENIM PLANT - SAN MARCOS, TEXAS

CONE MILLS' TEXAS PLANT—Shown above is the architect's drawing of the Cone Mills' San Marcos Denim Plant, to be located two miles northwest of the center of San Marcos, Texas, on the Missouri-Pacific Railroad. Construction of the plant, to employ 1,100 people, will begin early in 1955. Approximately 25 million yards of blue denim will be produced annually on the plant's 1,080 looms and 42,000 spindles. Approximately 72,000 bales of cotton will be consumed annually. The modern, one-story, windowless building will have floor space of 600,000 square feet and approximately 14 acres. It will measure approximately 11 million cubic feet.

RETIREES—Alva Stephenson, 71, retired recently from his job as elevator operator in Revolution Flannel Plant. He first came to Cone Mills in 1907, then moved away for a while. He returned in 1914 and worked in the Carding Department for several years. He lives at 2718 Church Street. He plans to spend more time in raising chickens and a vegetable garden.

Ministerial Group To Have Annual Dinner

Textile Ministerial and Religious Workers Association will hold its annual Christmas dinner at noon Wednesday, December 8 at Proximity YMCA. Members and their wives have been invited. Rev. A. L. Parker, pastor of Asheboro Street Baptist Church, will be guest speaker.

Entre Nous Club Meeting Today

Entre Nous Club will have a program of Christmas Carol singing and a reading of a Christmas Prayer by Mrs. T. H. Ward today at its noon luncheon meeting. The program is in charge of Mrs. Ruth Gardner. Mrs. Audree Anthony will preside.

Three immunizations were given by R.N. Mrs. Juanita Johnson.

EDNA SUGGESTION—Shown above is Hazel Purgason, employee in the Weaving Department at Edna Plant, Reidsville, who suggested a method for winding up and breaking off loose ends on the thread holder of the battery. It is designed to reduce the broken ends at the bottom of the battery. She received an award from Cone Mills Corporation for her idea.

John Field New Credit Manager At Cone Mills Inc.

Effective January 1st, 1955 John E. Field will succeed Charles Bittmann as credit manager of Cone Mills Inc. As previously noted, Mr. Bittmann will retire at the end of this year, having spent 54 years with the firm.

Mr. Field, who is also assistant treasurer, joined the company in 1937 and received a thorough grounding in various phases of the business, including the order department, technical and merchandise detail departments. He began credit work in 1939 and was made assistant credit manager in 1945. He was elected assistant treasurer in 1952.

During World War II, in addition to his credit duties, Mr. Field handled the interpretation of OPA and WPA government regulations for the firm.

He is a member and past president of the Textile Credit Association and chairman of the Cotton Membership Advisory Committee of the New York Credit and Financial Management Association. He is a member of the Arkwright Club and a member of the boards of directors of the Downtown Textile Credit Group, Inc., the New York Credit Men's Adjustment Bureau, Inc. and the Credit Men's Fraternity, Inc.

Mr. Field was born in Greensboro, North Carolina and attended the University of North Carolina for two years. He is a graduate of the Pierce School of Business Administration in Philadelphia, and has also attended the National Institute of Credit in New York City. In 1948 he participated in a 13-week term of seminar study under the Advanced Management Program of the Harvard Business School.

Leading Role

Miss Shirley Brady, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Brady, 2106 Shober Street, has the leading female role in the season's play at Campbell College, Buie's Creek.

Paul R. Ervin, Lay Leader of the Western North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church, who is a Charlotte attorney, will speak at the Sunday morning service at 11 o'clock at Caraway Memorial Methodist Church, Sunday is Layman's Day.

25-Year Employees At Haw River Will Hear President Herman Cone

Herman Cone, president of Cone Mills Corporation, will speak at the dinner honoring employees at Tabardrey Plant and Granite Plant, Haw River, Saturday night, December 11 at Haw River Community Club. This will mark the first service award event for the Haw River plants.

Nine Tabardrey employees and five Granite employees will receive 25-year service pins, bearing the blue and gold seal of Cone 25 years service.

The Tabardrey Plant employees to receive 25-year service pins are Herbert J. Browning, Thomas Gray Dixon, Benjamin H. King, Homer A. Lamb, James M. McClure, William E. May, Herman Ray, Monroe Ray, Sr., and George H. Smith.

Granite employees to receive service pins are Percy C. Beatty, Claude S. Kidd, Walter M. Leach, Eugene L. Perry and Frederick A. Whitney.

Tabardrey Plant pins will be presented by Vice President James Webb and Superintendent R. M. Mitchell. Granite Plant pins will be presented by Vice President Sidney M. Cone, Jr., and Resident Manager and Superintendent P. C. Beatty, who will also be master of ceremonies.

Rev. John R. Kitterer of the Episcopal Church will pronounce the invocation.

Entertainment will be by Mrs. Allen D. Pearson, Jr., and Mrs. James T. Martin, vocalists, accompanied by Mrs. Norma Goodwin. Miss June Carolyn Humphrey, pianist, will be on the program also.

History

Both the Tabardrey and Granite properties were formerly the Holt-Granite-Puritan Company, started in 1845 by a Mr. Trullinger. In 1858 this property was purchased by E. M. Holt and his son, Thomas Holt, who later became governor of North Carolina. In 1928, the Proximity Manufacturing Company (now Cone Mills Corporation) and the Textile Development Company of Boston bought the Holt-Granite-Puritan property. Incorporators were Herman Cone, Sidney S. Paine, L. H. Sellars, Frank Leak and J. R. Young.

Tabardrey

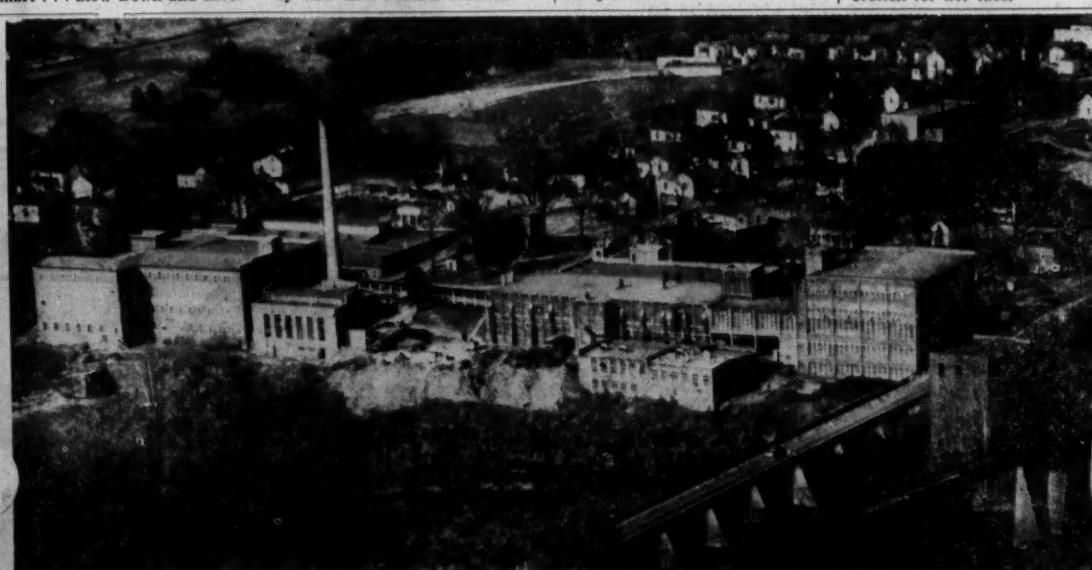

The Tabardrey Manufacturing Company, with controlling interest owned by Mr. Paine, and the Granite Finishing Works, owned by the Cone Mills, began operation in 1929. In 1946, these mills became Tabardrey Plant and Granite Plant of Cone Mills Corporation. Tabardrey merged with the Cone interests at that time, and Mr. Paine, who had been president of Tabardrey, became a vice president of Cone Mills Corporation. He is now retired.

Tabardrey Plant, the main corduroy mill of the Cone organization, started with 320 looms and by 1946 had grown to include 800 looms. Arthur Makin is local manager of this plant which employs approximately 450 people.

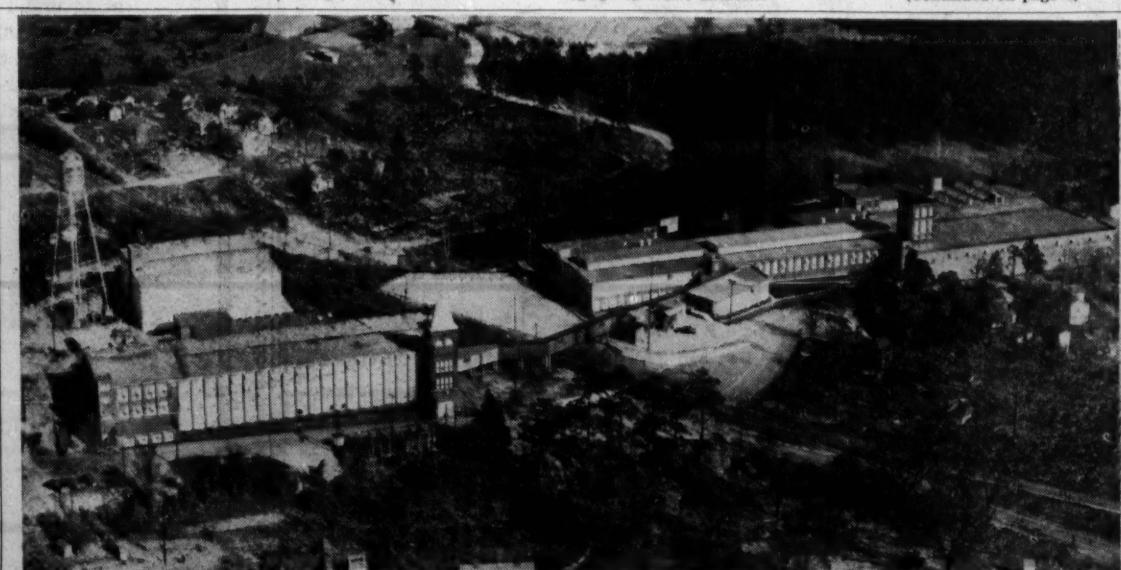

Granite

Granite Plant, the first complete corduroy finishing plant in the South, and now one of the largest in the country, finishes corduroy in many solid colors and now in prints have won a nationwide reputation for quality and fashion. The plant was named by its head, Sidney S. Paine, for his children. Mr. Paine is now a retired vice president of Cone Mills Corporation.

QUARTER CENTURY CONE PLANT—Shown above is Granite Plant of Cone Mills Corporation, Haw River, which like Tabardrey, was part of the old Holt-Granite-Puritan Company. This plant began operation as the Granite Finishing Works of Cone Mills in 1929. The first complete corduroy finishing plant in the South, and now one of the largest in the country. Granite finishes corduroy made at Tabardrey, Eno and Haynes Plants.

CONE PLANT 25 YEARS—Tabardrey Plant, Haw River, shown here, last Monday observed the 25th anniversary of the opening of the first bale of cotton and the production of cloth as a Cone plant. Tabardrey, the main corduroy mill of the Cone organization, includes 800 looms and employs approximately 450 people. Cone built corduroy in many solid colors and now in prints have won a nationwide reputation for quality and fashion. The plant was named by its head, Sidney S. Paine, for his children. Mr. Paine is now a retired vice president of Cone Mills Corporation.

Corn Bread Facts

Years ago we heard two sayings which were most expressive. "Corn bread facts" was an expression used to indicate true facts without any camouflage or misrepresentation. We also have heard the expression "Rhubarb cream chiffon pie" which indicated a whole lot of frills, misrepresentation and deception insofar as facts were concerned.

In analyzing the situation which textile mills are facing today, it is the time for "Corn bread facts" and not "Rhubarb cream chiffon pie."

No one with the slightest familiarity with the situation in the textile industry today would deny that mills are facing one of the most difficult periods in their history. The causes of this situation are pretty generally known and do not need to be enumerated again.

We are not too sure, however, that individuals, in considering their own respective mills, are giving enough attention to the "Corn bread facts." The following represent the bare, naked truth in connection with individual mills:

1. A mill cannot successfully compete if the quality of production is not as good or better than other mills equally as anxious to get business in order to continue to run.

2. Mills cannot successfully compete if their efficiency is below the standards of competing mills.

3. Mills cannot successfully compete and sell goods in this buyers' market and continue to operate indefinitely if their costs are in excess of the costs of competing mills, regardless of what section of the country the competitors operate in.

4. The fate of practically all textile mills in the United States is in serious jeopardy if tariffs are lowered and goods made with cheap, foreign labor are permitted to come into this country in marked volume.

The above are indisputable facts. Unfounded and irresponsible claims or promises can in no way alter them. They represent pure, common sense acknowledged by every person who gives serious consideration to the matter. The plight of every individual mill or group of mills is affected by those conditions.

Mr. Chatman is overseer of the Carding Department of the Tabardrey Plant and Mrs. Wrenn is employed in the Spinning Department there. Mrs. Fogelman's husband is employed at Granite Plant.

59th Congress Of American Industry In Session This Week

New York—In the keynote address to the 59th annual Congress of American Industry, the nation's major gathering of industrialists, during the opening session on Wednesday, December 1, Kenneth R. Miller, senior vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers, the sponsoring organization, said he was confident the nation's economy will be able to provide the million-plus new jobs and the vast amount of goods needed annually by the rapidly growing population.

More than 3,000 of the country's leading industrialists are attending the three day session. During the period there will be addresses on themes of broad and specific interest to manufacturers.

Each state is represented by a college student and industrial apprentices, selected on a regional basis are attending the Congress, all guests of the NAM. The student-apprentice group played a part in the Friday morning session when industrialists quizzed them on what they want from the industrial economy in the years ahead. Three simultaneous work sessions will be held on Friday afternoon on the subjects Industrial Research, Distribution and Employee Relations.

Taking part in these sessions, among others, will be Dr. Clifford Furnas, Chancellor, University of Buffalo, N.Y.; Dr. Hoyt C. Hottell, Professor, Dept. of Chemical Engineering, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Jerry E. Morse, Vice President, Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co., Minneapolis, Minn.; K. T. Bement, Assistant General Sales Manager, Burroughs Corp., Detroit, Mich., and David C. Lash, Jr., Sylvan Electric Products, Inc.

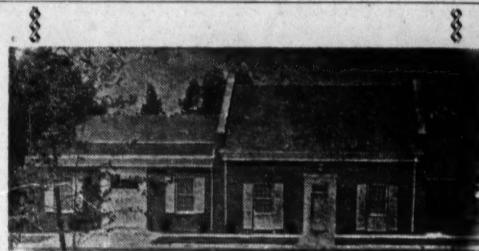

Clarence B. Randall, Chairman, Inland Steel Co., and special consultant to President Eisenhower on Foreign Economic Policy, is to give the address at the annual dinner Friday night.

TO HEAR HERMAN CONE

POPULARITY WINNER — Miss Peggy Jean Parrish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Berry, both employed at Revolution, was winner of the popularity contest at Rankin High School on October 31. She received a trophy and was crowned Queen of Halloween.
